Flesch-Kincaid: 3.7 | Words: 117

The world is full of amazing sounds, sights, and smells. Your five senses help you learn about the world. The nose has the sense of smell. It alerts you to cookies baking or smoke in the air. The eyes provide sight and allow you to see the world around you. Most people can see colors of the rainbow near and far. The ears allow you to hear the sounds of the world. Loud or soft, beautiful music or honking horns give you information about your surroundings. Your tongue can taste salty, sweet, sour or bitter foods. Your hands and skin provide the sense of touch. Soft, hard, hot, cold all touches give you information about an object.
